NO SIGNS

Of Any Halt In the Powerful Russian Offensive are Noticeable

AUSTRIANS TELL OF SOME CHECKS

But Czar's Troops Remain Upon Aggressive

CAPTURE OF 170,000 MEN

By Muscovites Since Inception of Their Onslaught is Claimed By Petrograd —French Positions at Verdun Attacked By Germans — Austrians and Italians at Grips.

From official reports issued from the capitals of warring European nations, the Associated Press makes the following estimate of the situation along various fronts:

There are no signs of a halt in the powerful Russian offensive in Volhynia, Galicia, and Bukowina. The latest Austrian official statement tells of a Russian check here and there, notably the defeat of a cavalry force south of the Dniester in Galicia and the stopping of Russian efforts to cross the Stokhod and the Styr in Volhynia. The Russians however, are remaining on the aggressive, attacking all along the Volhynian front and pressing hard against the Austrian lines further south.

The capture of approximately 170,000 men by the Russians since the inception of the offensive is claimed by Petrograd, which declares that steady advances are being scored against the Austrian armies.

French positions in the Dead Man Hill sector, northwest of Verdun, are again the object of German attacks, the big guns of the crown prince violently shelling the French trenches. The only infantry movements that developed, however, were a hand grenade attack slightly west of the hill, which the French repulsed, and a similar attack on the Avocourt redoubt, to the southwest, which also failed.

There is still pronounced activity on the Trentino front, where the Austrians and Italians are at grips, but no advances of consequence, on either side are claimed, in the latest reports.

The British destroyer Eden sank as the result of a collision in the English channel. Three officers are missing.

CHALLENGED TO TRIM ACCOUNTS; DONAHEY DID SO

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, June 17.—After he had been virtually challenged to "trim" expense accounts of Dr. H. T. Sutton, member of the State Board of Health and prominent Zanesville Democrat, Auditor of State A. V. Donahey today announced he "applied the suction cleaner," and off of accounts submited for two days, both of which included taxicab service, he had cut items amounting to five dollars.

The first day's bill was for $7.80 and the second was for $11.30.

"When I visit Cleveland I avail myself of three cent carfare privileges," said Mr. Donahey in making the reduction.

Dr. Sutton, Mr. Donahey charges, sent his bill to the Secretary of the State Board of Health and the doctor's attention was civdently called to the size of the bill for he sent a note to the secretary's office in which he said: "Kindly make no change in my expense account as it is reasonable and right. Let the auditor of state do the trimming and when the opportunity offers, I will trim for him."

The note was attached to the voucher and presentea to the auditor for payment.

APPEAL

To Pennsylvania Employes to Remain Loyal in Event of Strike

SENT TO THE 46,000 EMPLOYES

Of the Company's Lines East of Pittsburgh

VOLUNTEERS CALLED FOR

To Assist the Company In Maintaining Train Service —Engineers, Firemen, Conductors and Brakemen Wanted—Only 25,000 Or One-Sixth of the Total Strikers Operate Trains

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Philadelphia, June 17.—General Manager S. C. Long, of the Pennsylvania railway company today appealed to the 146,000 employes of the company's lines east of Pittsburgh asking for the continuance of their loyalty and calling for volunteers to maintain the service in the event of a trainmen's strike. The appeal reads in part.

"To the employes of the Pennsylvania railroad company:

"Your attention is called to the fact that a conference which has been in session in the city of New York, General Managers of the roads of the United States and the presidents of the four trainmen organizations has resulted in a disagreement. A strike ballot is being taken by the train employes of the Pennsylvania railroad company.

"The total cessation of train movement will result in stopping work in all departments, with consequent loss of earnings to all employes.

"This company employs 146,000 men. Of this number, only 25,000 are in the train service. It is not reasonable to expect that the wages of the remaining 121,000 remaining men, not in the train service shall be jeopardized or stopped by a strike of less than one-sixth of all the employes.

"The management, under the law, is required to operate the railroad in the interest of the public and if a strike eventuates, it will be incumbent upon all employes to be faithful to their duty and operate the road.

"If this strike of trainmen is carried on, our company will require engineers, firemen, conductors, passenger and freight brakemen. The management calls the attention of all faithful employes to the necessity that may arise to meet such emergency.

"Those of you who feel and believe with the management that the traffic of the company must move, regardless of any wage controversy, and who are willing to volunteer their services to assist the company in doing its duty to the public, to the stockholders and to the loyal and faithful employes, will send their names to their immediate superior officers, stating for what service they volunteer.

"The management gives assurances to those who may volunteer, and whose services are accepted that they will be retained in the positions assigned them and receive the same protection that has always been afforded during crisis of this nature."

EFFORT TO INTIMIDATE, GARRETSON'S COMMENT.

New York, June 17.—"In the statement is an effort to intimidate the men," said A. B. Garretson, President of the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors when informed here today of the Pennsylvania railroad's appeal to its employes. "There is no danger of a general strike unless the railroads refuse to negotiate with us after the strike vote is taken."

ALL ROADS LEAD TO NEWARK EAGLE CONVENTION WEEK

One of the greatest crowds in the history of Newark will be here next week in attendance at the Eagle state convention. It is estimated that on Thursday at least 30,000 to 40,000 visitors will be in Newark to witness the big parade of uniformed marching clubs, a number of which will be accompanied by bands.

Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the prize auto parade will take place. All owners of machines are invited to compete for the cash prizes which will be given for the best decorations. In the evening the Mardi Gras carnival will take place. There will also be an exhibition drill by the Tiffin degree team, said to be the finest in the United States.

There will be two band concerts tomorrow, one in the afternoon at 1:30 o'clock by the Rutherford carnival band and the other in the evening at 7 by the Buckeye band. The bands will be stationed in the balcony of the Warden hotel and no doubt thousands of people will turn out to hear the splendid musical programs which will be rendered.

The advance guard of convention visitors began arriving today and a number are quartered at the various hotels. It will be a problem to care for the visitors but Newark will prove equal to the task.

Perishing Warned That Any Move Of His Troops, Except Northward Will Result in a Mexican Attack

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Brownsville, Tex., June 17.— A troop of the Third cavalry under Lieut. A. D. Newmans, has struck a hot trail of Mexican bandits north of Brownsville, it was reported to army headquarters here today. The bandits are supposed to have been there, among those who attacked U. S. soldiers near San Benito last night.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, June 17.—General Funston advised the war department today that he was informed by General Bell at El Paso that General Pershing had been warned by General Trevino, the Carranza commander at Chihuahua, that any movement of the American expedition to the south, west or east, would be a signal for an attack by the Mexican forces.

No word has come so far from General Pershing himself but even before the arrival of General Funston's message department officials were inclined to credit newspaper dispatches telling of the Trevino warning. Preparations have been made for any eventuality and Pershing is ready to deal with any force that may be sent against him. It is probable, however, that he will hold to his present lines, and make no move to precipitate hostilities.

General Funston reported also that Major Gray of the Fourteenth cavalry commanding the two troops attacked by Mexicans at San Iganacio, Texas, recently had returned from an effort to pick up the trail of the bandits. The cavalry rode some distance down the American side of the river, crossed to the Mexican side on reports that a bandit mobilization was in progress, turned north again on the Mexican side for several miles and recrossed into American territory without having encountered any outlaws or finding a trail. Two additional prisoners were captured on the American side and the body of another dead Mexican found in the brush near the scene of the attack.

Major Gray reported he had received assurances of co-operation from Carranza military commanders across the line. The Mexican officials said they had captured twenty men believed to have been engaged in the attack on the American camp.

The American commander said he believed the band had been broken up, and that no further activities were to be expected from that particular force.

Practically all available regulars of the United States army, including man coast artillerymen, already are on the border or in Mexico and the national guard of Texas, Arizona and New Mexico are in service for patrol duty. The guardsmen of other states were notified some weeks ago to be prepared to respond if it should become necessary to call them out.

It was learned today that considerable correspondence has been exchanged between the department and the governors and adjutants generals of various states relative to the new status given the guardsmen under the Hay-Chamberlain army organization bill which becomes effective July 1. These messages are presumed to have caused recurrent reports that the entire force of the national guard was being prepared for active service.

Mexican embassy officials said they had not been informed of any message sent by Trevino and that examination of what purported to be the text of the warning published in some of the morning papers was sufficient proof that it either was a badly garbled translation or a fabrication. They were not disposed to doubt, however, that some kind of a warning had been sent.

Revival of bandit activity in the vsHpkIvploop t?n'sirst .dfosa ns,t lower Rio Grande valley last night resulted in vigorous action by authorities which was interpreted today here as presaging a determined attempt to nip the periodical recurrence of outlawry in the bud by dealing with maurauders on American soil.

Soon after reports were received that bandits appeared [illegible] San Benito, several detachments of troops were sent to deal with them. Motor cars were commandeered in accordance with prearranged plans and two companies of the Twenty-sixth infantry were dispatched from Harlingen to Olmito, ten miles north of Brownville, with orders to cut off the bandits' retreat across the Rio Grande into Mexico. Meanwhile, another force of two companies of infantry sent from San Benito earlier in the night to investigate reports that the Joe Scott ranch had been attacked, found their quarry ten miles east of San Benito. A running fight took place in which, according to meagre reports available here, three Mexicans were killed while the American force suffered no casualties.

In addition to these two forces a troop of cavalry was thrown into the game of hide and seek played by the Mexicans, when reports came that another bandit force had appeared near the Fresnos tract, 14 miles north of Brownsville, and had robbed a Mexican farmer of his horses. The man escaped unharmed and reported the occurrence to Fort Brown from where the cavalry was sent.

HIGH PRICE

CHARGED FOR GASOLINE IS SUBJECT OF FEDERAL INVESTIGATION.

Standard Oil Company of Ohio is Cited Before the Federal Trade Commission.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, June 17.—A special hearing has been set by the Federal Trade Commission for next Wednesday to enable the Standard Oil Company of Ohio to explain why it is able to charge several cents more a gallon for gasoline than is charged by its competitors. Commissioner W. J. Harris who has led in the commission's investigation into the causes for the increased price of gasoline indicated today that the commission would take steps to enforce the attendance of representatives of the Ohio concern unless they attend the hearing voluntarily.

At a hearing a week ago attended by nearly all parties interested except the Ohio company, the commission reached the conclusion, Mr. Harris said, that the failure of the Standard Oil company of Indiana to compete in the Ohio territory permitted the higher prices there and was one of the underlying causes of the demoralization of the oil industry. He said, too, that statements from officials of the Ohio concern were necessary to complete the report on the investigation which will be turned to the department of justice if evidence is found looking to a criminal conspiracy to raise prices. Mr. Harris expressed the opinion that the inquiry had the effect of preventing a further increase in price.

TESTIMONY

TO IMPEACH MISS DAVIS' EVIDENCE

To Effect That Dead Girl Was Brooding

SCHOOL MATES AT PARTY

Say That Upon That Occasion, Shortly Before Her Death, Marion Was Very Cheerful — Witness May Be Called Regarding Disposition of Some Cyanide of Potassium.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Waukegon, Ill., June 17.— The state today brought 18 eighteen-year-oldgirls to court to impeach the testimony of Josephine Davis in the trial of Will H. Orpet for the alleged murder of Marion Lambert. The girls had attended Marion's eighteenth birthday party on February 6, three days before her death in Helm's woods near Lake Forest.

The first of the girls to take the stand, Bernice Wells, testified that Marion seemed happy at the party.

A demure miss, in unadorned blue, came next. She smiled innocently at Mr. Dady when he asked her name and responded in a clear, unafraid voice, "Florence Russell."

The witness and two friends spent the night of the party with Marion. Anna Paulson, who always had done so, was unable to stay.

"Did you see Josephine Davis take Maron into a room," asked Mr. Daddy.

"No, sir."

"Did Marion ever tell you of intimacy with any boy?"

"No, sir."

"Did you and Marion talk of Orpet after the party?"

"Yes, Marion said she had heard that Orpet was engaged to Celestia Yonker. She said Josephine had written Orpet about it but had received no reply. Marion didn't know what to think of the report."

Judge Donnelly, who is hearing the case, expects to decide today whether he will call Percy Longland as the court's own witness in the case. Attorneys for the state asked yesterday that Longland be so summoned, and the jury was excused late in the day while the opposing counsel argued before the judge as to the state's request, the defense entering a vigorous objection. Longland is employed on the Cyrus McCormick estate by E. O. Orpet, father of the defendant and superintendent of the estate. He had charge of the greenhouse in which a can of cyanide of potassium was kept at the time of the girl's death. State's Attorney Ralph J. Dady said that Longland told him that Mr. Orpet had ordered him about Christmas time to throw the poison away as it had deteriorated to such an extent that it was of no value. Longland said he had forgotten to do that but that a few days after Marion's death Orpet told him to throw the poison in the ash heap and to "forget that he ever saw it."

Dady said this was before it was known that Marion had died of cyanide poisoning.

Mrs. Frank Lambert, mother of the dead girl, occupied the witness stand for a short time yesterday and testified that Marion was always of a happy disposition. The mother contradicted the story told by Josephine Davis that her daughter was sad on her birthday night, a short time before her death.

PROBATE JUDGE ROBBINS HUNTER, OF THE LICKING COUNTY court, bears the distinction of being the youngest man now sitting on the bench in the state of Ohio. He was appointed to the office at the age of 30 years, by Judson Harmon, then governor of Ohio, to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge E. M. P. Brister. He served three weeks and was then elected in the fall of 1910 to serve the unexpired term of two years, of Judge Brister. During the two years he attracted considerable attention to his court by the efficient manner in which he disposed of the cases before him, and at the election in 1912 was re-elected for four years. When sitting as judge in the juvenile department of the court Judge Hunter is as quick to see the boys' side in the case on hearing as that of the prosecution and he is recognized not only as an able but a fair, impartial judge. At an early age he entered the Fisburn Military "Prep" School, in Virginia, and later attended Doane Academy and Denison University. He is a Phi Gamma Delta. After completing his studies at Granville, he entered the law office of his father, the late Judge Samuel M. Hunter, where he read law for two years. Then he finished his study in the law department of O. S. U. His court is one of six courts in the state that has concurrent jurisdiction with the court of common pleas.

SAFETY FIRST TRAIN IN CITY ON JUNE 27TH

When Secretary Franklin K. Lane of the Department of the Interior and other government officials embarked on a program of education, called "safety first," in order to arouse the people of the United States to the value with the varied activities of the federal service in protecting life and health, safe-guarding the nation against outside attack and developing natural resources, two methods were instituted as feasible, one being a series of local expositions and the other the fitting out of a train for carrying the gospel of self-protection to the people in the highways and byways. Taking up the matter with the president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad system, Daniel Willard, plans were made for assembling a comprehensive group of exhibits arranged by the government, installing them in a train and covering the program of education upon the broadest possible lines.

The new steel coaches upon delivery to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad by the manufacturers were taken to the Mount Claire shops of the company, at Baltimore, and prepared for the exhibition, after which they were taken to Washington and for a period of several weeks the exhibits were placed in position and the finishing touches put on by experts in the government's employ. Two other cars were fitted up to provide living accommodations for the corps of government officials and employes in charge, one being a Pullman car used as sleeping quarters, and the other a dining and recreation car.

The "Safety First Special" drawn by two of the largest locomotives used in passenger service, and also new, after an inspection by President Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, members of the cabinet and diplomatic service, the Interstate Commerce Commission and other government officials, and President Willard and staff of the Baltimore & Ohio officials, left Washington Monday, May 1, on an executive tour of the country.

The train will be exhibited in Newark, June 27, from 9 to 2 o'clock, and will be open free for public inspection. Invitations have been extended on behalf of the government to the mayor and other city officials, members of the various business organizations, the faculties and student body of educational institutions and professional men, asking that they visit the train and study the work which is being done by the government for advancing the welfare of the people of the nation. On board the special train are officials of the army and navy, to demonstrate the work of coast defense, weather bureau, bureau of mines, interstate commerce commission, American Red Cross and the medical and engineering corps of the government. These officials are accompanied by a retinue of assistants, clerks, instructors and others who explain each of the exhibits.

The train embodies the last work in car equipment and is said to be the finest of its kind ever operated in the country. It represents an investment of $150,000, independent of the cost to the government for fitting it out.

Employes Picnic.

About 1700 employes of the local shops of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, and their families, had as their chance and work of their work and contented to Buckeye Lake today to participate in an old-fashioned picnic. The early morning train to Bruno carried a great many of the picnickers, while nine interurban cars lined up in front of the East Main street station to handle the crowd.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the first section of three cars left Newark for the lake and section after section followed to leave until nearly 10 o'clock. The day will be spent in contests, dancing, boating, a baseball game, and a wrestling match. A number of local officials joined the men on the outing.

Wedded Party.

The wedding party which accompanied the newlyweds—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wolverton—to the Baltimore & Ohio station this morning, unloaded, according to attaches of the station, several tons of rice. For over an hour after the couple had departed on train No. 16 for New York, a squad of employes of the station was engaged in gleaning rice from the platform.

Mr. Wolverton is a well-known employe of the local Baltimore & Ohio machine shop, and his bride was Miss Inez Stasel. More than 150 friends were at the depot this morning to see the couple embark on their honeymoon trip.

Chicago New Station.

Chicago's new passenger terminal, which is now in the course of erection, will be called Union Station, and will be occupied jointly by the Pennsylvania Railroad company. The new station will cover an area of 29 acres, situated in the heart of the city. Work on the terminal is progressing as rapidly as conditions will permit, and it is expected that the new building will be entirely completed and ready for occupancy in the summer of 1919. Ground was first broken for the station improvement one year ago the first of this month.

PERSHING

Much interest was displayed concerning the question whether if the bandits eluded th esoldiers on this side of the Rio Grande and effected an escape into Mexico, the Americans would pursue a "hot trail" across the international boundary or leave the corralling of the outlaws to the Carranza soldiers under General Ricaut, who recently announced that he had placed a sufficient force in this territory to deal with all outbreaks and that any crossing by the Americans would meet with armed resistance.

WILL NOT SHIRK WAR

Note to Carranza Will Make Plain United States' Position.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, June 17.—Although the United States' reply to General Carranza's last note is virtually completed, its dispatch is being delayed while administration officials seek detailed information on these developments.

Carranza's threat, reported from Chihuahua yesterday as having been transmitted to General Pershing through General Trevino, to start active warfare if American troops in Mexico are moved in any direction except northward toward the border.

Another bandit raid on Texas territory north of Brownsville last night.

The attack on American troopers by Mexicans at San Ignacio Wednesday; and

Reports of warnings by the Carranza commander opposite San Ignacio that American troops would be attacked if they crossed the Rio Grande, regardless of their purpose.

Additions to the note dealing with some of these late developments may be made, it is said officials' present intention is to dispatch the reply within a few days.

The Washington government will reaffirm its purpose not to intervene in Mexican affairs unless forced by continued and aggravated attacks on American territory, it is reported.

Sufficient emphasis will be placed on the growing impatience of this government however, to make it plain that if warfare finally appears a duty, it will not be shirked.

CIVILIANS ARM

Tension Noticeable on Mexican Side Opposite El Paso.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

El Paso, June 17.—Officers and soldiers of the American garrison here were kept closely to their quarters today. Street car service to Juarez was at a standstill and efforts were made by United States customs officers to persuade Americans not to cross the river.

Tension was noticeable on the Mexican side where numbers of civilians were arming themselves. Reports from authentic sources indicated that recruiting for the army was being pushed in all the larger cities in northern Mexico.

Reports that General Gabriel Gavira, Carranza commander of northern Chihuahua had been put to death of Mexican City on the charges of treason, was officially denied today in a message received at the Mexican consulate here from General Alvaro Obregon, Carranza's war minister.

FUNSTON WORRIED

Very Little About Ricaut's Warning —Will Follow Bandits.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

San Antonio, Texas, June 17.—General Funston and his staff gave careful attention today to the activities of outlaw bands along the Mexican border, but for greater interest was displayed in the attitude being assumed by the troops of the de facto government.

General Ricaut's warning that the crossing of the international boundary by any American troops for any cause would be regarded as an overt act and would be the cause for an attack by the de facto government troops did not disturb General Funston. The search for bandits it was declared will continue and whenever a "hot trail" is found leading into Mexico the Americans will not hesitate to follow it. The officers in charge of troops on the border have authority to cross into Mexico without waiting for instructions.

General Funston's army of almost 50,000 has been so disposed along the Mexican border that swift punitive action could be taken if it has been so disposed along the Mexican border that swift punitive action could be taken if invited by any overt act of Carranza's army.

General Jacinto Trevino's threat to attack General Pershing if the American troops move east or west or south was regarded by army officers here as little less than a declaration of hostilities by the Mexicans. No fear is felt however that General Pershing will not be able to take care of himself. Precautions taken by General Bell at El Paso last night in holding all the American troops ready for action were similar to those taken at every border point opposite which there was any ... ... ?? ? ? ?

TEXAS RANGERS

And Armed Citizens Hurried to Intercept Bandit Raid.

Laredo, Texas, June 17.—Texas rangers under command of Captain J. J. Sanders, and several armed citizens were hurried to Islitas, 25 miles up the Rio Grande from Laredo on a report that Mexican bandits were seen approaching the settlement. Rangers in that vicinity advised the few Americans to congregate at the J. B. Morrow ranch house, from which an appeal for aid was telephoned.

General Mann, commanding the Laredo district of the border patrol had heard nothing regarding the raid and was inclined to believe that if a raid had been contemplated, it had not been carried out.

U. S. CONSUL RETURNS.

Laredo, Tex., June 17.—Philip C. Hanna, U. S. consul general at Monterey, and one of the two remaining American consuls in Mexico accompanied by half a dozen other Americans, arrived here today. He was reticent as to the object of his visit.

Asked regarding conditions in Mexico and the probable length of his stay, consul Hanna replied:

"Everything is quiet down the line. I may remain two or three days."

It has been known for some time that Consul Hanna was instructed by the state department that he could leave his post at any time at his own discretion.

There is an undercurrent of unrest according to reliable reports received here, among the Mexican civilians and soldiers in the territory around Monterey.

It has become openly known that General Carranza has given orders that if American soldiers enter these sections of Mexican territory not already occupied by Mexican troops, it would be considered an act of war, and the Mexicans have orders to give battle.

SONS OF VETERANS WILL PERPETUATE DECORATION DAY

F. M. Alexander, delegate to the state encampment of the G. A. R., at Marion this week, returned to Newark last evening filled with enthusiasm for the citizens of Marion, who, he says, overdid themselves in every detail to entertain the visitors.

Mr. Alexander says the predominating feature, or rather the happiest event of the encampment, from a Sons of Veterans' standpoint, was the adoption of a resolution by the G. A. R., bequeathing to the Sons and Daughters of Veterans, the duty to perpetuate Memorial and Decoration Days. This was the wish of the G. A. R. on their 50th anniversary. The resolution was adopted without a dissenting voice.

"The acceptance and promises to comply with the resolution made by these organizations," Mr. Alexander said, "can better be imagined than described as a sacred and grateful demonstration."

SUNDAY'S GAME WITH WILKES TO START 3 O'CLOCK

Determining to stick in second place in the league standing, the Fitzsimmons team of the Capital City league will go into the game tomorrow afternoon all set to give the Wilkes a good lambasting. Pitcher Orndorf will be expected to turn the visitors back in good style and the hard hitting supporting column will be depended upon to produce enough runs to place the team safe.

Wilkes and Fitzsimmons are tied for second place. With a victory tomorrow, the Newark boys will be in splendid position to move into the much coveted first place position.

The game will start at three o'clock. The carnival band which will furnish music for the shows next week in East Main street, will give a concert before the game.

12 YEAR OLD BOY DROWNS IN EFFORT TO SAVE BROTHER

Coshocton, O., June 17.—Claude Hackathorn, 12 years old, whose home is in East Liverpool, was drowned in the Tuscarawas river near here yesterday while trying to save Lewis Hackathorn, his younger brother, who fell from a skiff. The drowned boy sank just as help came in response to his cries. The boys were members of a camping party near here and their father with other men in the party, were absent from the camp at the time.

Berlin, June 17, via London 4:10 p. m.—General von Linsingen's troops have engaged the Russians in battle in the Stokhod and Styr sectors, says the official statement issued by German army headquarters today.

The statement adds that parts of the army of General Count von Bothmer are engaged in battle with the Russians to the north of Przewloka.

The "Gold-Standard"—in Tires

GOODRICH Tire Values are not at all "Accidental."

They spring from Conditions which are logical as the Laws of the Universe.

The best-intentioned Tire Manufacturer cannot AVOID being heavily handicapped when competing against them.

Because, Goodrich "Conditions" summarize into this:

1st—The longest Experience in Mfg. the Product.

2nd—The greatest Leverage on purchasing of Raw Materials at lowest prices, through ability to take largest quantities.

3rd—The lowest Cost of Manufacturing, through largest VOLUME of Output.

4th—The clearly-demonstrated INTENTION to give Consumers and Dealers the full benefit of the large ECONOMIES resulting from possession of the three Cardinal Advantages above defined.

THE Product of such a Rubber-Concern,—when marketed under such conditions,—giving the benefit of such huge Economies to Consumers may well, and logically, be considered—the "GOLD-STANDARD" in Tire Values.

Therefore:

—When you pay MORE than the Goodrich Fair-List prices, here printed, for ANY Fabric Tire, you are merely "contributing" the difference.

Because,—You CANNOT get "better" Fabric Tires,—at ANY price!

Test them thoroughly,—and see!

DENISON PLANS NEW ATHLETIC AMPHITHEATER

Granville, O., June 17.—Athletic interests of Denison University are centered in the announcement made by President Clark W. Chamberlain of Denison during the commencement exercises, "that 154 acres has just been purchased, part of which will be used as an athletic field." Coach W. J. Livingston is quite "up in the air" over this sudden acquisition to his athletic realm.

For several years dissatisfaction has been generally expressed here because of the shortcomings of Beaver Field as a battle ground of athletic conquest. The quality of the soil, lack of proper seating arrangements and remote location from the gymnasium are three of the most notable drawbacks relative to the present field. The new grounds adjoin the north side of the campus. The deal was closed the afternoon before commencement.

"It is my privilege to state," said President Chamberlain concerning the new field, "that the university authorities have just purchased 154 acres of ground just north of the campus on College Hill. This territory covers that land known as the amphitheater. Part of this will be added to the regular campus and maintained as such. A large part will be utilized as an athletic field. Every effort will be made to make it an ideal one. Plans have already been gone over by the committee in charge.

"Not only will the field be used by the men but arrangements will be made for the women of Denison also. There not only will be one baseball diamond but as many as are needed, so that secondary teams may be accommodated as the 'varsity will be. The same is true of other sports. The new equipment will be complete in every way."

When asked how soon the work would be started, Millard Brelsford, member of the board of trustees, said: "Although there is nothing definite concerning the time when work will be commenced, I might say that a special committee on grounds and buildings has the matter pretty well planned. They have conferred with Architect Flagg, of New York, designer of the new $10,000,000 Naval Academy building at Annapolis, and a general plan has been evolved but nothing definite as yet."

More than 12,000 students are studying agriculture in the colleges of the United States.

TEN HORSES IN LATONIA DERBY THIS AFTERNOON

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Cincinnati, June 17.—Ten horses were entered to start in the thirty-fourth running of the Latonia derby at the Latonia, (Ky.) race course this afternoon. Six and possibly seven or eight, it was thought, were reasonably sure to start.

The derby is worth $15,000 and some of the best eligible three year olds in the country were among the entries the race promised to be an open one. The track was affected by the heavy rain of yesterday but it began to dry out last night.

George Smith ruled favorite in the morning betting on account of his victory in the Kentucky derby. Big Smoke, Votary and some of the others have been doing splendidly and many looked to see the victor come from one of these.

The distance of the race is a mile and a half.

HARRISBURG GETS BASEBALL CLUB FROM TROY

Harrisburg, Pa., June 17.—J. H. Farrell, president of the New York State League of Baseball Clubs, in a telegram to Manager George Cockill of Harrisburg yesterday officially announced the transfer of the Troy, N. Y., franchise of that organization to Harrisburg to take effect immediately. Utica and Harrisburg will meet here Monday.

KOST EASY WINNER.

John Kost easily defeated Walter Riley last night in a 150-ball pool game at the Kemp pool room in West Main street. Kost pocketed 150 balls while Riley was taking 54. Kost made one run of 21 balls without a miss.

Should Sloan's Liniment Go Along? Of course it should! For after a strenuous day when your muscles have been exercised to the limit an application of Sloan's Liniment will take the soreness and stiffness away and get you in fine shape for the morrow. You should also use it for a sudden attack of toothache, stiff neck, backache, stings, bites and the many accidents that are incidental to a vacation. "We would as soon leave our baggage as go on a vacation or camp out without Sloan's Liniment." Writes one vacationist: "We use it for everything from cramps to toothache." Put a bottle in your bag, be prepared and have no regrets.

RAIN AND WIND INTERFERES WITH ANNUAL REGATTA

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 17.—The oarsmen of the universities of Cornell, Columbia, Syracuse and Pennsylvania were confronted today with most unfavorable weather prospects for their twenty-second annual regatta to be rowed on the Hudson this afternoon. The wind from the southeast and a drizzling rain promised to dampen the enthusiasm of the thousands of college men arriving for the battle of sweeps.

A continuation of the wind from the southeast and a strong ebb tide will make the course exceptionally rough.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

London, June 17, 5:20 a. m.—Captain Boelke, the champion German aviator who received an autograph letter from the Emperor recently complimenting him on his success in bringing down French aeroplanes, is believed to have been killed in an aerial combat with the French aviator Roger Riberiec. A Fokker painted yellow and of the type known to have been piloted by Boelke, who also wore a yellow muffler, was shot down by Ribieriec two days ago between the German and French trenches near Verdun.

ESTABLISHED IN 1820

Entered as Second Class Matter March 10, 1882, at the postoffice at Newark, Ohio, under the Act of March 4, 1879.

It is never a good plan to swap horses while crossing a stream of water—Abraham Lincoln.

There is a strong sentiment that the government should take a firm and resolute position in dealing with the nations not able to fight us.

Many people's idea of working in the Clean-Up movement is spending some time every day cussing the public officials for not doing it.

After deploring the loose habits of Sunday observance, some people find fault with the baker for not delivering ice cream at just the right time for Sunday dinner.

A town far out of the range of an invading army can still be interested in the preparedness campaign if they are given encouragement that they may get a munitions factory.

From the way automobiles are run, it would seem as if a large number of people were trying to beat E. G. Baker's record of seven days, 11 hours, and 52 minutes from Los Angeles to New York.

It is claimed in opposition to Justice Hughes that there has been no president with whiskers for many years, but anyway he'll never show any pieces of black court plaster pasted over shaving cuts.

The man who has not by this time received any allotment of petunia, larkspur, carrot, and parsnip seeds from the government, might as well conclude that he is considered a negligible figure in national politics.

The Spice of Danger.

It was a typical incident at the Sheepshead Bay Speedway, New York, a few days ago, when Carl Limberg and his mechanician, who were competing in an automobile race, were killed while speeding 104 miles an hour. The news story says the enthusiasm of the crowd was "dampened." Yet if there had been no danger in this competition, it is doubtful if any crowd of 25,000 people would ever have put in an appearance.

There is a love in the human mind for seeing people do perilous things. Circus stunts like tight rope walking are as old as history, and have always drawn a crowd. Would people ever turn out to see them if the rope were stretched two feet from the ground? Just as much technical skill would be called for in that case. But the element of control of nerves would be missing. This is largely what the crowd comes to see.

For many years balloon ascensions were the most popular attraction at the county fairs. Today their place has been taken by aviation, which satisfies the same demand. The public enjoys seeing daring men flirt with death. It wants them to win out in this competition with the elements, but it insists that there be no shirking of risks. The fact that the air is equally and full of "pockets" does not excuse the aviator, in the minds of the crowd, from failing to make his flights. Yet his safe return under these conditions may be very dubious.

It is often remarked that the law should stop perilous exhibitions like automobile racing. Yet if the racers were stopped on the speedway, they would risk their necks on the public roads, where they would endanger many others beside themselves. They would enjoy taking these chances, and no doubt do it for love of the sport quite as much as for money.

This is an age of morbid fears. It is rather refreshing, in a time of so many extreme precautions, to see certain types of people who can put aside all timidity in the face of death.

The Choice of a College.

As the school year has just closed, many parents intending to send children to college are anxiously considering the advantage of various institutions. The question whether it shall be a large or a small college is one of the vital issues.

The big college is usually more prosperous, can afford better equipment and it pays higher salaries for its faculty. It is claimed that even their lesser grade of insrtuctors average up well with the average professor of the small college. Meanwhile the large college employs for its more responsible posts, the pick of the educators of the country. These are men of scintillating brilliancy, able to make their subjects fascinating to young people. The students of the large classes do not come closely into contact with these men. But they hear their lectures and their minds are broadened.

In favor of the small college, it is argued that the boy comes into a closer personal contact with the teaching force. The professors may not average as high in ability, but they are a fine type of men. They know the boys more intimately and give them closer attention.

If boys have unusual gifts, they make themselves felt anywhere. If they can't make the 'varsity ball team, they can perhaps get on the class or house nine. If they don't succeed in athletics, they may win a place on the college papers or in debating or music. There are wide lines of opportunity open.

Boys of a more reticent type, having no particular social graces or athletic or scholastic ability, are often lost in big communities of a thousand or two or more students. They plod quietly along the routine path of study, sit on the bleachers at the ball games, and pass through the course largely as spectators. Probably they would do better in an institution where they would meet less competition, and come closer to the men in charge.

What the President Did.

(Philadelphia Record.)

The concluding paragraph of the American note to Germany, April 19, is as follows:

"Unless the imperial government should now immediately declare and effect an abandonment of its present methods of submarine warfare against passenger and freight-carrying vessels, the government of the United States can have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations with the German empire altogether."

The German reply contained the following:

"The German government, guided by this idea, notifies the government of the United States that German naval forces have received the following order: 'In accordance with the general principles of seizure and search, and the destruction of merchant vessels, recognized by international law, such vessels, both within and without the area declared a naval war zone, shall not be sunk without warning and without saving human lives, unless the ship attempts to escape or offer resistance.'"

Diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany were continued because Germany yielded. This is the reason why certain Germans in this country are bent upon defeating President Wilson.

The concessions obtained by our government, in the interests of humanity and international law, were substantial. The Naval and Military Record, of London, says:

"The contrast between what the German U-boats were doing two months ago and what they are doing now is altogether too striking not to encourage the idea that something has occurred to modify their activity very profoundly. The simplest explanation is that President Wilson's last note has done the trick."

Professor Albert Bushnell Hart, of Harvard, was at the Progressive convention, shouting lustily for Roosevelt. Therefore he holds no brief for Woodrow Wilson. But he reviewed the correspondence with Germany a month ago and said:

"The two essential things upon which the United States has insisted are distinctly yielded, namely, the safety of American ships (not carrying contraband) from any destruction by submarines, and the equal safety from destruction of Americans on merchant ships. . . . If no vessels are sunk without warning then no Americans will be destroyed without warning; and there will be no more need of protests or suggestions of ceasing diplomatic intercourse. That is the main thing that the United States wants."

After this was written Germany made a third concession. It admitted, what it had at first denied, that a German submarine attacked the Sussex; it admitted that this was in violation of the law of nations, and assured the United States that the commander of the submarine had been punished.

President Wilson is under attack from certain Germans in this country because, in the interest of American rights, of international law, and of the principles of humanity, he obliged Germany to curtail the use of torpedoes against merchant steamers. Is there a single American who will vote against President Wilson because he maintained American rights against a foreign power?

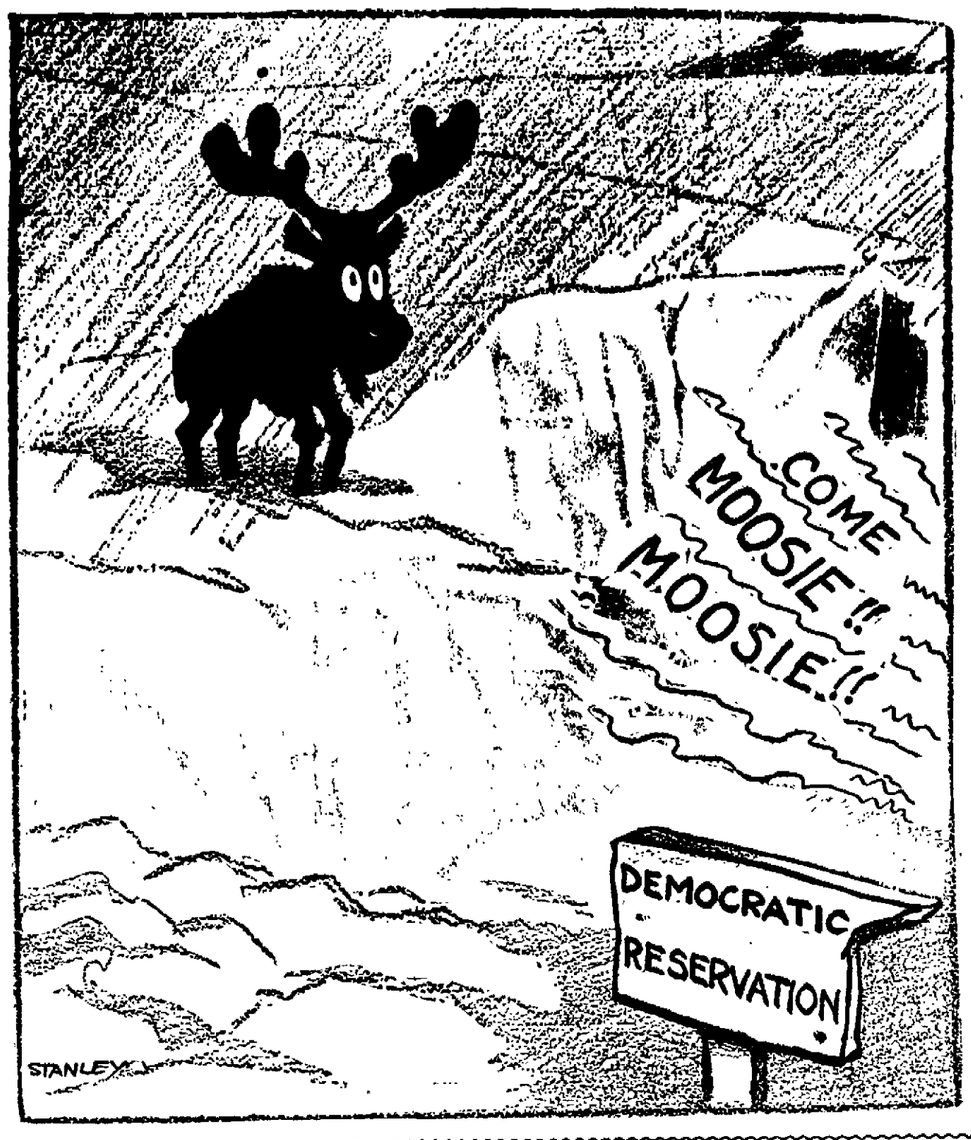

PRESIDENTIAL POINTERS

Inauguration day was fixed upon the 4th of March because that date seldom occurred on Sunday. But three times during our history has the inauguration day fallen on Sunday. The first was the second inaugural of Monroe, March 4, 1821; the second was when Taylor was made president, March 4, 1849; the third was the inauguration of Hayes on March 4, 1877.

This will happen three times during each century, or one year after every seven leap years. Except when passing from one century to another, there is a slight variation as will be observed in the following dates of the past and future inaugurations, of the first two centuries of the republic:

March 4 1821
March 4 1849
March 4 1877
March 4 1917
March 4 1945

THE CALL

Wilson's Leadership.

(New York World.)

The best definition of democracy that we know was framed by Elihu Root:

"Popular government is organized self-control—organized capacity for the development of the race."

During the last two years Mr. Wilson has guided the republic through the most critical period of its history since the Civil War. The problems that his immediate predecessors had to solve were child's play in comparison with those that confronted him. He has rested under a burden of responsibility heavier than that of any other president except Washington and Lincoln. Throughout it all he has kept the peace and the true faith of democracy.

It is easy enough to find fault with the president. Mr. Hughes had hardly thrown off the robes of his judicial office before he made a smashing attack upon Mr. Wilson, but, like all assailants of the president, Mr. Hughes did not venture to say what he would have done that Mr. Wilson failed to do, or what he would have left undone that Mr. Wilson did.

System Absorbing Poison, Tongue Coated, Liver Clogged?

A Wineglassful of Tollo Water Will Flush Your Liver and Start You Feeling Good In Half An Hour

Those who have known the pleasure of an active, energetic life and who now drag around feeling tired, depressed and unfit—look at your tongue, see if it is not covered with a furry coat. Look at your skin, see if it is not sallow, possibly covered with pimples. Your food distresses you, bloats your stomach and sometimes feels heavy as lead. It all comes from your liver. Too much rich food has choked the bile tubes, you become constipated and the bile which should be expelled regularly is being forced back into the stomach and absorbed into the system.

Concentrated Tollo Water from Dawson Springs will give quick relief. Get a 15-cent bottle from the drug store; pour out about a third of a tumbler full in a glass of plain water and drink it before breakfast. In a few minutes it will flush, really wash out the bile and waste from your system and start you feeling fine. Your complexion will start to clear up at once and by the time you have used a 15-cent bottle it will return to its natural healthy color.

Keep a bottle in the house and take a wineglassful before breakfast every few days; it will keep your bowels regular as a clock and your liver acting freely. You can eat all you want without feeling stuffy or bloated. You will know again the pleasure of an active energetic life.

Preparedness.

So far as the activities of munition producers are concerned, it is not apparent that they have had anything to do with the desire of Americans to protect their country against invasion, and the ogre of the "munitions trust" appears to be wholly a product of the pacifist's imagination.—Seattle Post Intelligencer.

The Art of Resting.

Even weak women who are not robust enough to take the daily bath will find an alcohol sponge bath strengthening and helpful. Taken just before the daily nap, it tends to give light and refreshing slumber. If one cannot take it at midday, to take it at night before retiring will cause one to sleep well, even if the bedroom is not any too cool.

To take down and brush the hair lightly, to rub the tired feet lightly with a little alcohol and water or diluted lemon juice, afterward wiping this off and applying powder, these things will also make the nap more comfortable. But more important is the habit of being able to let go of all of the work and worries of the day, when one would sleep.

Physical relaxation is taught by many nowadays but mental relaxation is not often heard of. So I counsel my readers who find it hard to sleep when they wish to, and especially in the day time, to learn how to shut out of mind, as by a door, all the puzzling, freting, worrying thoughts the burdensome, grinding work thoughts and retain only in the conscieusness the thought of peace ad rest.

Let the mind fill itself with images of something pleasant, whether it is some of childhood's recollections, of a flower or a bird, or a pleasant scene, of a memory of trickling water or flowering tree or herb. Think and dwell upon this pleasant, restful image and watch carefully that the work thought does not slip back once more into the foreground. If the mind is taught how to relax and to let go in this way sleep may be successfully wooed by all, even as Madame Bernhardt wooes it, if only for a matter of a five minutes' rest.

Another aid to the hot weather siesta is the rather small thin hair pillow to use as a substitute for the feather cushion. The head should never be too high, that is, for the normal and healthy woman. To stretch out flat upon the back is found by many to be soothing and restful. Many like to lie upon the floor in summer finding there some little draught and play of air.

Our Boys and Girls

Why should not boys and girls have their own allowance in proportion to the means of the parents, as soon as they are old enough to know the value of money?

An allowance is the best safeguard against the habit of extravagance, if a child is taught to spend the money judiciously and to keep a strict account of all expenditures. It is absurd to think that a boy is not capable of buying his own neckties or a girl her handkerchiefs. What if they do make mistakes? They can be taught to profit by them and they must learn to rely upon themselves sooner or later. Children like to be trusted and will seldom betray confidence, and there is not a better way than this to teach them the value of money.

Everyday Etiquette

"Where should a man walk when he is acting as an escort to two ladies to the theatre?" asked George.

"A man takes the outside of the walk. In escorting two ladies to the theatre he seats them together and sits nearest the end himself. Of course, this last must be modified according to circumstances, there may be some reason why he should sit between the ladies, but by taking the outside seat he prevents either of them from being inconvenienced by the occupant of an adjoining seat," advised his father.

Discretion.

"Why did you decide not to go to the convention?" inquired the loyal constituent.

"Well," replied Congressman Hammfatt, "I thought I could get more out of it by staying at home and blaming the other fellows for whatever is done that turns out wrong."—Richmond Dispatch.

Granville

(Special to the Advocate.)

Granville, O., June 17. — The greatest commencement in the history of Denison University, having passed into history, the good people of the village are ready to turn their attention to other important matters—and the next thing to engage the public interest is the address to be given in the Methodist church on Monday evening, June 19th by Mrs. Lulu Loveland Shepard, who is known as the silver tongued orator of the West. For twelve years president of the W. C. T. U. of Utah, and one of the most famous public speakers of the country, Mrs Shepard is well worth hearing, and every patriotic citizen of Granville should hear her stirring address on "The Mormon Kingdom and the Liquor Traffic." She not only is eloquent, she is wise and knows where of she speaks. She comes to Granville under the auspices of the National Reform Association, which has headquarters at Pittsburgh, in behalf of its nation-wide crusade against the menace of Mormonism. Admission free. No one can afford to miss this opportunity of hearing one of the greatest orators in the country.

The King's daughters of Granville have been highly commended for their work during commencement week, in furnishing good meals at a moderate price to the many visitors in town. Everyday this week their rooms have been open, and a capable committee in charge of the cooking. The tables have been attractive, the good appetizing and the service prompt. The president, Miss Lilly Jones states that there were no donations called for, all supplies being purchased at market price, but that there has been a neat profit to the organization.

Chicago, June 17.—Notwithstanding recent severe declines, wheat prices today again headed down-grade. The market opened from ⅛ to ¼, and 1c down, with July at $1.01 to $1.01⅛, and September at $1.03 to $1.03½, was followed by a slight rally, and then a fresh setback.

Corn gave way with wheat. Prospects of warmer weather tended further to ease the market. After opening unchanged to ½c lower, prices underwent a moderate general sag.

Signs of shipping demands furnished only temporary firmness to oats. Bears soon had the advantage on account of the decline in other grain.

Lower prices on hogs weakened provisions. The chief activity was in lard.

Weekly Summary.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, June 17.—New aspects of the foreign situation were presented during the week overshadowing in interest the results of the political conventions at Chicago and St. Louis. Consummation of the long deferred $50,000,000 Russian loan, was followed by indications of new undertakings here for Great Britain and France as well as South America.

There was heavy selling of the Anglo-French war issue, rumor ascribing the liquidation to banking interests which are likely to be actively identified with new projects.

The Mexican situation caused further uneasiness, Washington's firm attitude towards the de facto government of that country being followed by fresh disturbances along the border. The unsettlement of yesterday's late market was accompanied by reports that the militia of some of the northern states would soon receive emergency orders.

Traders had the market of the week entirely to themselves, except in some of the railway issues, where further quiet accumulation was observed. There was also marked improvement in low-priced issues of the roads traversing the south and southwest. Restoration of the full 7 per cent dividend rate on Louisville & Nashville was regarded as the forerunner of similar action elsewhere.

Specialties such as munitions, equipments and minor industrials were in lighter demand but sugar maintained their recent recovery for activity with a new high record for American beet. Coppers and allied issues had a brief period of activity and several new maximums, but the movement was only indifferently maintained.

Wall Street.

New York, June 17.—The final session of the week opened with a further depreciation of quoted values for which the more serious aspects of the Mexican situation were primarily responsible.

Declines of a point were registered by Mexican Petroleum, United Fruit and Studebaker, with two points for Airbrake, while other specialties lost material fractions, together with United States Steel, Reading and St. Paul. Moderate gains were made by beet sugar, Inspiration Copper and Willys-Overland. Heaviness became more general later, Petroleum extending its loss to almost three points.

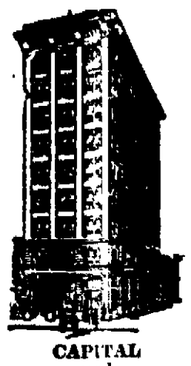

Selling of the usual week-end character induced in part by the crisis in Mexican affairs and the railway labor problem characterized today's dull session. Mexican Petroleum was the weakest stock, declining almost three points, with a full point for American Smelting. Among war issues Airbrake, Baldwin Locomotive, Crucible Steel and Westinghouse receded one to two points, with similar declines in motors and obscure mining shares. St. Paul, Reading, Lehigh Valley, Illinois Central and Seaboard All Line averaged one point losses, with more moderate declines in U. S. Steel and the metal group. Shipping issues furnished almost the sole exception to the lowering trend, United Fruit gaining almost three points. The closing was heavy. Bonds were irregular.

Chicago Grain and Provision.

Chicago, June 17.—Closing Wheat, July $1.00⅝; September $1.02⅝.
Corn—July 71½; September 70½.
Oats—July 38⅝; September 37⅞.
Pork—July $22.50; September $22.70.
Lard—July $12.85; September $12.97.
Ribs—July $13.17; September $13.17.

Two Days Only Thurs. & Friday June 22 & 23—AUDITORIUM THEATRE—Twice Daily 2:15 & 8:15

PAVLOWA, WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS DANCER, TO APPEAR IN NEWARK

ANNA PAVLOWA.
In "The Dumb Girl of Portici," at Auditorium Theatre, Thursday and Friday, June 22-23.

One of the greatest events in the history of the motion picture art will take place at the Auditorium on next Thursday and Friday, when Russia's dancer, Anna Pavlowa, will appear on the stage in a massive spectacle entitled "The Dumb Girl of Portici."

"Who is the greatest box office attraction in the world?" This is a query one may hear at every hand not only where stage folk congregate, but in the clubs and in the foyers of the theatres and opera house. The general impression is that the greatest singers and great opera make the biggest box office attractions, but side from Caruso there is not a singer of either sex who would fill the Metropolitan Opera House, at $5.00 a seat or higher without the aid of other famous names. Unquestionably the only celebrity in the world who could pack the opera house at $5.00 a seat through her own personality is Anna Pavlowa, who has drawn $10,000 in one night, and in one evening at the Metropolitan Opera House so frequently that the box office executives always predict within a fraction what the gross results will be.

Pavlowa drew $17,000 in two performances in Los Angeles, California, while during the week afterward the Metropolitan Opera House Company, including all of the world's greatest singers combined as the attraction could not attract the equal average at the box office. Therefore the public, which is now privileged to see Pavlowa in a massive film spectacle at the price of admission vastly below any she has ever appeared, may congratulate itself in the wonderful development of the motion picture art which is now beckoning the world's greatest artist in the direction of a film studio."

Together with the above, "Diana, The Huntress," will be given. The Diana Production presents a series of artistic poses by Mlle. Valkyrien, the climax being Diana at The Bath. This picture might be termed sensational or probably daring if it were not done with such fidelity to the ancient myths and with such artistic care. Seats for all performances, there being two daily, will be reserved, with prices 15, 25, 35 and 50 cents, the seat sale starting at ten a. m. Tuesday.

The Auditorium.

Sallie Fisher has many opportunities to exercise her gift of interpreting comedy in "The Little Shepherd of Bargain Row," new Essanay multiple feature. During the filming of the piece Miss Fisher spoke the lines throughout in the manner which made her such a favorite on the stage, with the result that she kept most of the studio workers continually in laughter. Richard C. Travers of "Gloria's Romance," and John Junior appear with her in the piece.

This picture, together with popular Billie Burke in Capter No. 3, and you certainly will fall in love with "Billies" "cutey cutey" mannerisms, and by gum they certainly are fascinating. "Gloria's Romance" is seen today and tomorrow. Tonight will also be the last chance of seeing pretty Lillian Walker in "Green Stockings," a delightful comedy.

Alhambra, Tonight.

Of the many remarkable and unusual characters in which Blanche Sweet, the beautiful Jesse L. Lasky star has appeared, she will be seen in something entirely different in the forthcoming production of "The Thousand Dollar Husband," which will be the atraction at the Alhambra tonight. In this Miss Sweet is seen as a Swedish maid of all work in a college boarding house. How she suddenly becomes wealthy and secures a husband, is shown in a very unusual manner. It is a Paramount Program release.

Sunday, Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bathe in "Graustark."

Alhambra, Monday and Tuesday.

Fannie Ward, the distinguished actress, who scored such a triumph in the Lasky productions of "The Cheat" and "For the Defense," will be seen at the Alhambra on Monday and Tuesday in the vivid drama "A Guter Magdalene" in which she will be seen as a beautiful Salvation Army lass.

100th Anniversary Consecration of Bishop Claggett

Washington, June 17.—The 100th anniversary of the death of Bishop Thomas John Claggett, first bishop of any church consecrated on American soil, will be commemorated in a special service at Washington cathedral close, Mount St. Alban, tomorrow. Bishop Daniel S. Tuttle of Missouri will preach the sermon and a large attendance of Episcopalians and kinsmen of Bishop Claggett is expected.

The bodies of Bishop Claggett and his wife, Mary Ganot, were moved in 1898 from the family burying ground at the ancestral estate at Croome, Prince George's county, Maryland, to Mount St. Alban and placed beneath the chancel of the church. Later they will be placed in the cathedral.

Rome Papers Feature the Renomination of President Wilson

Rome, via Paris, June 17.—The nomination of President Wilson by acclamation appears under large headlines in all the Rome newspapers. The general comment is that Wilson will be obliged, despite his pacifist inclination to support the creation of a powerful fleet and a strong army and the larger participation of the United States in world politics.

DAILY BAND CONCERT ALL OF NEXT WEEK

The All-American band, under the leadership of Prof. Charles Chapell, is one of the pleasing features of the coming engagement of the Rutherford Greater Shows here during the week of June 19.

This organization is as well trained as any in the country and will furnish a series of real musical treats to local music lovers.

Daily concerts have been arranged for and the promoters of the big event promise something out of the ordinary in the way of tent show band music, when this group of artists reach this city.

Prof Chappell has secured the services of some of hte best instrumentalists and soloists in the country and under his able leadership has developed into the fine organization that is the pride of the Rutherford Greater Shows.

Prof. Chapell's organization will be heard in daily concerts during the Eagle convention week.

The band will give a concert from the Warden Hotel balcony tomorrow afternoon at 1.30 o'clock and will then proceed to the ball park where another concert will be given.

Lilly by the completion of the recount in five additional counties, according to advices received here today. Y. W. C. A. Notes

Girls, your board of directors and your general secretary were never happier than when they knew and realized your wonderful part in the Y. M. C. A. campaign. We know that it means work and sacrifice on your part, but we also know something of the joy that will come to you out of that work and sacrifice.

The "June Breakfast" served on the lawn at 100 North Fifth street, Tuesday morning was a success. The weather man favored us with an ideal June morning, and everyone enjoyed sitting out under the lovely trees, eating strawberries and cream, sipping coffee, while the birds sang their morning melodies. Sorry that you couldn't be there. The girls have about $15 for their conference fund. The girls wish to thank Mrs. Fitzgibbon for the lawn, Mrs. Dr. Stimson for doughnuts, and Mr. G. F. Saur for advertising.

The members of the Industrial clubs are all making plans for their Council Meeting at Western College, Oxford. The Jolly Workers had a lawn party at the home of Mrs. Clark on North street last week and have another one planned for next week at the home of Bee Palmer on Prior avenue.

Friday noon, Miss Burns, assisted by the girls from the Maple avenue factory, served a lunch on the lawn of the North End Christian Union church, the proceeds of which will be added to their conference fund. The lunch was supplied by members of the industrial committee.

Tonight the members of the Domestic Science class serve the annual dinner to the board of trustees at the Y. W. C. A. The girls will prepare and serve the dinner in the doestic science department on the second floor of the building. This practically closes their work for this year. The exhibition of their work will be held on Friday night, June 23d at the Y. W. C. A. The advanced class will receive their certificate from the department at that time. Everyone is invited to come and see what the girls have done.

Next Monday evening the girls in the boarding home, under the direction of Mrs. Pierce, will serve a dinner for Mrs. Hatch, who is entertaining her Sunday school class.

Mrs. Chandler Tucker will sing in costume two Japanese songs at the meeting of the India-Japanese club, Tuesday evening, June 20 at the Y. W. C. A.. "She Stoops to Conquer" and a lullaby, "Sleep, Little Pigeon, Sleep." This is all we will tell you of our program for that night; if you want to know more you will just have to come to see for yourself.

The girls in the boarding home have for sale in the dining room, Hershey's chocolates, the proceeds to go towards their pledge to Y. M. C. A.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The re-arranged schedule for summer privileges at the building is as follows:

Business Men—Volly ball: Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 5:30 to 7 p. m.

Junior Boys—Monday, Thursday and Saturday, 9 to 10 a. m.

Cadets—Tuesday 9 to 10; Saturday 10 to 11 a. m.

Intermediates and Seniors use of baths and swimming pool at periods not scheduled for other classes.

Special swimming lessons for all members who do not know how to swim and non-members who make application at office, Monday, 7 to 8 p. m., and Wednesday morning 9 to 10. A charge of 15 cents will be required of non-members.

All social privileges, reading room, cool lobby and resting place open from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. Every day except Sunday. Special summer rate, full privileges. Men $2 for three months and boys $1 for three months.

The financial campaign is over. Over two hundred men and women and many clubs, churches and commercial organizations assisted with the work. The Y. W. C. A., through its general secretary, Miss Katherine Childs and its board of directors took an active part in many ways. The newspapers of the city deserve much credit for the help they rendered. The board of directors and employed officers of the association are most thankful for such co-operation as was extended. May God be praised through the actual service that the Association may render in the coming years to the young men and boys of Newark.

The Association Men for June have arrived and will be distributed within a few days to those who are on the mailing list. Several copies of the Foreign Mail Annual are still at the office. They may be had by any one wishing the pamphlet by calling at the office.

Donald Power left on Tuesday night for Meadville, Pa., to spend the summer with their uncle. Donald has worked practically every vacation day at the Association since last September. He will be missed by many of his friends.

Calvin Hazlett, who has spent the winter at Washington and Jefferson College, will be home from school and will resume his summer duties at the Association.

K. OF P.

Newark Lodge.

The attendance at the regular weekly meeting on Thursday evening was very light, owing to the fact that several of the members attended the meeting in Columbus on that date to assist in the reception of Grand Chancellor George L. Behrens and from all reports they were well paid for their time and trouble in going as they had a very good time and the meeting was a decided success.

The regular routine of business was light and took up very little time to dispose of. One application was received and referred to the proper commitee. One application was voted upon and elected to membership. The sick list is getting smaller as some were declared out of care of the lodge at this meeting.

At the semi-annual election of officers the following were elected for the semi-annual term, ending December 31, 1916, and will be installed at the first meeting in July by J. B. Lentz as installing officer.

Roland Lodge K. of P.

The past week has been pretty full for members of the Knights of Pythias in this city, and Roland Lodge was well represented in the various activities. The memorial services Sunday afternoon in honor of the departed brethren was a success in every respect, the attendance being the largest yet recorded in this city for a similar occasion. At the Grand Lodge convention in Cleveland this week Roland was represented by two delegates, Grand Lodge Trustee Root and Bro. H. S. Kirkpatrick, who went up from Wheeling. The convention was the largest and best ever held and more history was made than at any previous convention. A full report will be made at next Tuesday night's meeting. Then on Thursday night probably 200 local Knights went to Columbus on a special train and attended the reception in honor of Grand Chancellor Behrens. A report will also be made of this trip next Tuesday evening. At the lodge session on Tuesday evening the Page rank was conferred and the usual routine matters disposed of and two candidates elected to membership. Esquire rank was announced for next Tuesday evening. It is hoped that the attendance will not fall off if the night should be a little warm. The officers say they will hurry things along and not keep you longer than necessary.

MACCABEES.

The Maccabees on Sunday morning performed the duty of decorating the graves of the 26 deceased members of Octagon, but were thankful indeed that there has not been a death in Octagon tent in the past year.

We will meet in regular session on Thursday evening, June 22, at which time there will be work in the first degree. Say, Sir Knights and Ladies, did you know about the picnic at Olentangy park at Columbus, on Saturday, June 24th? Ask your Record Keeper, about it he will give you some tickets.

A good time is expected. There will be a gold watch on the ground and you may be able to get it. There will be a chance for everybody.

From 3 to 5 p. m. some person on the park grounds will be in the possession of a beautiful gold watch.

This gold watch will be given to the first person who, wearing a ticket upon his or her apparel, accosts the holder of the watch and says correctly: "Pardon me: are you a member of the greatest, best, the safest, most progressive home protecting fraternities, the Maccabees? Have you the watch?"

This is an opportunity for you to get a valuable gold watch for nothing. Come to the outing. The watch will be there for you.

Children under 14 years of age not eligible to compete for the watch.

OLD RESIDENT DIES.

Coshocton, O., June 17.—Farley Connerty, 78 years old, a resident of Coshocton for nearly a half century, died yesterday of heart trouble and senilty. One daughter, Mrs. Joseph McDowell, survives. Funeral services will be conducted Monday morning at the Sacred Heart church.

Every Woman Should Use Every Week Shampoo

To Preserve Her Hair

If women would use an Anti-Septic Oil Shampoo instead of the soaps and shampoos now so commonly used, they would improve rather than injure the delicate hair plants.

The hair plant is an oil plant and to wash it with soaps or shampoos containing free alkali works great injury. It not only cuts the natural oil of the hair but it destroys the fatty roots of the hair plant causing the hair to come out.

EVERY WEEK ANTI-SEPTIC OIL SHAMPOO cleanses and purifies the scalp dissolves and removes dandruff, opens the clogged hair-cells and leaves the scalp soft and healthy.

It leaves the hair soft, lustrous, fluffy and easy to handle.

Excellent for men and children also.

Resinol Soap

a friend to tender skins

Many ill-made toilet soaps contain free alkali, a harsh chemical which tends to dry and injure the skin or hair. Resinol Soap contains absolutely no free alkali, and to it is added the soothing, healing Resinol medication, which doctors have used for over 20 years in treating skin troubles. Thus it comforts tender skins, and helps nature clear the complexion and keep the hair rich, lustrous and free from dandruff. Sold at all druggists' and toilet counters.

O'Connell as an Orator.

Few orators have been so fortunate as Daniel O'Connell in their physical appeal to the senses. Grattan, Curran, Emmet, Shell and Meagher were small men, not the least impressive to the eye. O'Connell was a man of royal aspect. His voice was seductively musical—the most musical, according to Disraeli, ever heard in the house of commons. It was soft, of great compass, capable of expressing every imaginable emotion. His eyes, light in color and full, flashed or beamed or burned, according to the sentiment expressed. His contemporaries all mention the expressibility of his mouth. His gestures were free and bold, not in the least suggestive of elocution and yet infinitely graceful and apt. There was nothing in his manner indicative of preparation. His manner was easy and without effort. Wendell Phillips, who heard him, says in his lecture: "We used to say of Webster, 'This is a great effort,' of Everett, 'It is a beautiful effort,' but you never used the word 'effort' in speaking of O'Connell. It provoked you that he would not make an effort."—"The Irish Orators," by Claude G. Bowers.

The Evil Eye.

It is probable that the "evil eye," for which many hapless old women were harried to their death on the suspicion of witchcraft in "the good old days," was no more than a common squint, a "cast" in the eye, or "bossing," as it is called in many parts of the country to this day, writes Dr. N. Bishop Harman in the British Journal of Children's Diseases. Not only was the squint thought to be of evil significance, but the defect itself was considered to be the work of evil spirits. In "King Lear" we find the following in the scene on the heath at night:

"This is the foul fiend Flibbertigibget. He begins at curfew and walks till the first cock; he gives the web and the pin, squints the eye and makes the harelip, mildews the white meat and hurts the poor creature of earth."

Knew His Man.

George Bubb, better known as Bubb Doddington, one of the wits of the eighteenth century, always dined well and always liked to doze after the repast. Falling asleep one day after dinner with Sir Richard Temple and Lord Cobham, the latter reproached Doddington with his drowsiness. Doddington denied having been asleep and to prove he had not offered to repeat all Lord Cobham had been saying. Cobham challenged him to do so. Doddington repeated a story, and Lord Cobham owned he had been telling it. "Well," said Doddington, "and yet I did not hear a word of it, but I went to sleep because I knew that about this time of the day you would tell that story."

Lightning Rods.

There were no lightning rods in ancient times. The first one that the world ever saw was set up by our own illustrious countryman Benjamin Franklin shortly after the year 1752. He had just had his celebrated experiment with the kite, in which he demonstrated the identity of lightning with electricity, and was therefore prepared for the construction of the rods for which the world had waited so long. It is not generally known that Franklin was as distinguished in science as he was in statesmanship and diplomacy.—Exchange.

A Bright Outlook.

"Do you—er—do you think, Miss Dobleigh, that you will be—er—engaged next Thursday evening?" asked Tompy very bashfully.

"Well, really, Mr. Tompy," replied Ethel, "I don't know, but if you can get up spunk enough between now and then to do your share I think there's a fair prospect that I shall be."

And Tompy did.

Different Kinds.

"I had a tooth extracted yesterday," remarked the fussy man, "and the dentist gave me gas."

"Oh, that's nothing," rejoined the man with the bald spot. "Every time I get shaved the barber gives me a lot of it."—Indianapolis Star.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Hemorrhage.

In treating hemorrhage the first thing is to find its cause and then try to stop it by local means. What these means are must depend on the state the patient is in and the site of the bleeding. If that is easily reached the hemorrhage can be stopped by packing or by pressure or by binding with ligatures. Sometimes the state of the patient is such that it is best to stop the flow by the pressure of the hand or fingers while other steps are taken to relieve the constitutional symptoms of shock and collapse.

Sometimes only an operation can reach the point from which the blood comes. In that case it must be performed as rapidly as possible while the patient receives constitutional treatment. In many cases only a physician can find the source of a hemorrhage, but intelligent bystanders can do much to relieve the symptoms. Hot water bottles are needed to help in maintaining the bodily heat. Stimulants should be in readiness, and the salt box should be at hand, for saline injections are often given by physicians in dangerous cases of hemorrhage.

AUSTRIAN REPORT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Berlin, June 17.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—Austro-Hungarian troops south of the Dniester river in Galicia, defeated a Russian cavalry force on Thursday, according to an official statement given out by the Austro-Hungarian army headquarters under date of June 16.

The statement also announces that new battles have been started on the whole front in Volhynia.

As an addition to the Bertillon system of identification, an Omaha dentist has perfected a way to register the ridges of upper gums, which, he says, never change and are different in every individual.

Why They Walk In Circles.

"If you were lost in a desert or in a forest and tried to find your way out," says a well known scientist, "you would be almost sure to walk in a circle." This well known fact is due to a slight inequality in the length of the legs. Careful measurements of a series of skeletons have shown that only 10 per cent had the lower limbs equal in length, 35 per cent had the right limb longer than the left, while in 55 per cent the left limb was the longer.

The result of one limb being longer than the other will naturally be that a person will unconsciously take a longer step with the longer limb, and consequently will trend to the right or left, according as the left or right leg is the longer. The left leg being more frequently the longer, the inclination should take place more frequently to the right than to the left, and this conclusion is quite borne out by observations made on a number of persons when walking blindfolded. The inequality in the length of limb is not confined to any sex or race, but seems to be universal in all respects.

Courtesy In Business Pays.

In the American Magazine is a story by Fred C. Kelly to prove that courtesy in business pays. It has to do with George C. Boldt, manager of the Waldorf-Astoria in New York city and former manager of a Philadelphia hostelry.

"One night when all the hotels in Philadelphia were crowded and it was almost impossible to obtain a room a man and his wife drove up to Boldt's hotel and asked in a tone of despair if he could not give them a place to sleep.

"'Yes,' Boldt told them; 'you can take my room. That's all I have.'

"The next morning the guest told Boldt that a manager with his sense of courtesy would be an assured success in a much larger hotel.

"'And,' added the guest, 'I'm willing to provide you with the hotel.'

"Since then that same guest has invested many millions of dollars in hotels under Boldt's direction. The guest was William Waldorf Astor."

The Silver Fox.

The silver fox is really a black fox, instead, as some persons suppose, of being almost white or a silver gray. The name is given on account of the presence of glistening white and grayish hairs which appear among the black. In the better grades the long, silky brush has a tip of pure white. About a quarter of a century ago the little animal, which weighs when full grown only about twelve pounds, became almost extinct. Because of the beauty of its fur the species was trapped until almost the last of them had disappeared. For a long time the standard price offered by the Hudson Bay company for silver fox pelts was around $1,000, and the efforts of the French Canadians, half breeds and Indian trappers to obtain this sum, to them a fortune, can be better imagined than described.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Curious Recruiting Custom.

The Russian army in the early part of the nineteenth century had a curious way of raising troops. A levy of two to four men out of every 500 were selected and then medically examined at the army's headquarters, either at Moscow or St. Petersburg (now Petrograd). If the recruit successfully passed he was then turned over to an officer, who saw to it that he was correctly measured and, if the proper height, was sent into another apartment, where the front part of his head was shaved. If rejected as being medically unfit or short of the necessary height the back part of his head was then shorn of its locks to prevent him from appearing again among new levies.

Heavy Holes.

Mrs. Newed—I would like a pound of your best cheese.

Grocer—Yes, ma'am.

Mrs. Newed (examining it)—Why, this cheese is full of holes.

Grocer—Yes, ma'am; that's the way it comes.

Mrs. Newed—Well, I don't want any of it. I'm not going to pay for a pound of cheese that contains a half pound of holes!

Quite Deliberate.

"I am glad to say," remarked Mr. Seekton, "that I never spoke a hasty word to you."

"No, Leonidas," answered his wife rather gently; "I'm willing to give you credit for not hurrying about anything."

Solid Goods.

"What became of that cake I baked for you?" demanded the fiancee.

"I sent it downtown to have my monogram engraved on it," replied the fiance.—Kansas City Journal.

The Same Girl.

Young Husband—When I used to kiss you, you slapped me. Young Wife—Well, you won't get slapped now unless you forget to kiss me.—Illustrated Bits.

Not Too Thick.

"Are the fish thick here?"

"Well, not too thick, sir," answered the native. "We have to use this lake partly for navigation."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Shape No Object.

Butcher—Will you have a round steak, ma'am? Mrs. Younybride—I don't care what shape it is, so it's tender.—Boston Transcript.

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to billious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

Why Endure Summer Colds?

Your nose stops running, you cough less and you know you are getting better. Get a bottle, use as directed. Keep what is left as a cough and cold insurance.
